PLEASE READ BEFORE ORDERING

Genuineness and Guarantee—The greatest care and precaution is exercised to keep all varieties true to name and we do not substitute unless authorized to do so, and then under true labels only. Any plants proving otherwise will be replaced free of charge; but it is mutually agreed and understood that we will not be held liable for any greater amount than the purchase price of the plants involved.

Plants should be examined immediately upon arrival and if not in good condition they should be returned immediately. If accepted they should be set in a pail or tub of water over night (not longer), after which they may be planted out or just heeled in until ready to plant. Any plants failing to grow will be replaced at one-half purchase price.

Caution—Unpack plants immediately upon arrival and place in container of water over night. Not longer. Plant out immediately if possible. If planting is done in the fall the plants may be left with their tops untrimmed until spring at which time they should be cut back to not more than six or eight inches above the ground. Do not use any fertilizer at time of planting. See planting instructions, page 11.

Shipments Made November 1st to April 1st—Plants are seldom ripened or dormant enough to ship before November 1st. Most of the patent varieties are not released to us before December 15th. It is not practical or advisable to ship later than April 1st.

Those living in regions with late spring should place their order early. Plants will be reserved and held dormant as long as possible and then shipped to be held longer in cooler climate if necessary before planting.

Special Discount for large orders. A discount of 10% is offered on orders of fifty roses or more. 15% discount on orders of 100 or more. Patent varieties excepted. Many will be able to take advantage of this saving by ordering with friends.

All prices subject to change without notice.

No C.O.D. shipments. Please send cash, check or post office money order.

IT IS BEST to name second choice roses, when ordering. We do not substitute unless authorized to do so, and then under true name only. Some varieties are sure to sell out before others, and by naming second choice your planting plan has better chance of working out on schedule.

PLANTING INSTRUCTIONS

Few plants respond so readily to good care and culture as the rose. But few will survive under more adverse conditions. Or, though your bushes may grow, do not expect best results unless you would give them thought and care throughout the year. Our plants are packed well in damp moss to arrive in perfect condition for immediate planting. If not planted immediately the roots should be kept moist and stored in cool place until planted.

Select a place that has not less than one-half the day's sun, more or full sun is better. Dig the soil to a good depth to know that the plant will have good root room and that a layer of hard pan or tight earth does not exist just below the plant to hold water and injure during the winter months. Enrich the soil with well rotted manure and sand if necessary to create a friable condition. Some clay in the soil is desirable for its mineral content, provided enough sand and humus are added to make the soil workable.

Dig large holes, spaced 18-24 inches apart. Spread out the roots and fill in with loose earth. Run water in the holes while filling in to bring soil in better and closer contact to the roots. Cut back tops to about 6 or 8 inches. Do not plant too deep. Plant only to the depth the plant originally grew. This may be readily seen by the color of the bark, or just below the branches.

During the growing season the plants should be fed with a good complete commercial fertilizer worked into the top soil around the plant; small quantities monthly is best.

Dust the plants frequently with dry sulphur, containing about one-fifth arsenate of lead, to keep down mildew. Watch the young shoots for Aphis and use a spray containing either nicotine or pyrethrum.

Space does not permit more detailed instruction and only a general outline is intended. Your interest and good judgment are after all the most important factors and will pay you a thousand-fold for every effort spent.

VISIT OUR ROSE TEST GARDENS—They contain more than 200 varieties. You will enjoy this as part of your Portland visit and we will be delighted to entertain you. To Portland residents we invite you to come as often as you desire. To watch the progress of these gardens, to ask questions and let us help you in any way we can.

OUR POLICY is to give you the best rose value in the United States. To that end we strive to produce plants of the very highest quality and by careful personal supervision over every order received, ship to you the world's BEST ROSE VALUE.

Through years of experience and very careful study we are convinced our prices are just right. Not too high, not too low. Ideal growing conditions in Oregon gives us a distinct advantage in the cost of production of perfect plants. To this only a very reasonable profit is added to enable us to carry on the production of plants of the highest quality at a minimum low price. Remember, every rose shipped is a two-year field grown No. 1 grade. (American Association of Nurserymen grading standard used.)
